Benefits

- Supports the healthy production of estrogen.
- Supports the healthy function of tissues that respond to estrogen.
- Promotes the healthy function of bone, heart, brain, breasts, female reproductive organs and other estrogen sensitive tissues.

Estrogen is an important hormone that affects every cell in the human body. When hormones are imbalanced, life can be unpleasant.

EstroEnhance® promotes a healthy hormone balance in women by supporting the optimal function of estrogen sensitive tissues. Natural levels of estrogen have stimulating and restorative effects on your brain, nerves, bones, skin, heart, immune system, and other tissues. Normal estrogen function significantly contributes to healthy moods and memory improvement. A healthy sexual response is also affected by proper estrogen function.
